A Bit Of Introduction

By THE EDITOR

ANOTHER year of substantial progress for the industry of the screen and another edition of the Year Book of Motion Pictures, filmdom's Standard Book of Reference. This is the 19th edition of the Year Book. Time passes quickly in this effervescent, dynamic and ever-changing industry. Motion Pictures are again upon a firm, prosperous foundation. The generally healthy aspect of the industry, as this is written early in 1937, runs through the 1260 pages that follow, like a thematic melody.

BETTER times, of course, have been a factor, an important factor. Yet equally important, surely, has been the screen's artistic advance, easily sensed in not only studio production statistics but in the data appertaining to The Film Daily's "Ten Best Pictures" poll. And speaking of statistics, it is proper to reiterate that this vital part of the Year Book reflects the year-round work of Film Daily's Information Department, whose records and archives are daily at the disposal of those both within and without the industry. This volume's store of information, of course, further reflects the enthusiastic collaborative efforts of every branch of the industry itself, an added guaranty of accuracy and authenticity.

THUS to the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, the studios, distributing companies, exchanges, Federal departments and agencies, the daily newspaper film critics and editors and innumerable others of the industry's far-flung forces whose co-operation was so readily and generously accorded, the Editor voices his sincere thanks and appreciation.

Jack Alicoate.

ARE YOU TAKING ADVANTAGE OF THESE NEW LIGHTING IDEAS?

● A suggested theatre front capitalizing the attraction value of new materials and new lighting methods. Inset shows facade treatment.

● One of the many ways to make more efficient and effective use of light for illuminating large areas. These pre-fabricated squares are composed of two triangular pieces of light colored, mat-finished corrugated metal with accents of smaller squares of clear or colored translucent material in the corners lighted from behind.

Are you taking advantage of today's new building materials, new lighting methods, and modern lighting effects to give your theatre exterior the maximum attraction value with minimum cost?

One of these new lighting ideas is shown here. The luminous front sketched above has a border treatment and vertical sign of specular corrugated metal lighted by inside-frosted MAZDA Lumiline and natural-colored lamps. The exposed lamps or reflector letters are of high brightness.

The facade is made up of blocks of corrugated metal with accents provided by glass panels, as shown in detail in the inset photo. Floodlighting and the light from the sign bring out the texture of the metal. Lamps behind the glass panels give them a delicate coloring or a shimmering sparkle that imparts a jewel-like appearance to the front.

A SHOT IN THE ARM!

Enthusiasm is the lifeblood of showmanship. The rising and falling of box office receipts—barometer of show business—is in direct ratio to the amount of enthusiasm displayed by the showman.

Enthusiasm is today sadly lacking in show business. This has become a business of monotonous routine operations, stereotyped machine-made productions and lackadaisical distribution. The old buoyancy and excitement is missing.

Show business needs a tonic—a shot in the arm! And that is just what I have to offer.

My newly formed company is made up of enthusiastic showmen, pledged to handle just a few good pictures a year. None of them will be ordinary, run-of-the-mill pictures. Each one of them will be carefully selected for their exploitability and for the exciting escape from monotony they will offer the public. All of them will be brought to the attention of exhibitors and the public with all the enthusiasm necessary in successful show business.

THE industry had long needed a finer-grained film. And when Agfa produced it . . . in the new, improved Superpan . . . it was hailed as a real achievement in film manufacture.

Superpan's remarkably fine-grain, coupled with its high color sensitivity and speed, makes it an ideal supersensitive panchromatic medium. Agfa Superpan is made by Agfa Ansco Corporation in Binghamton, New York.

EVERYBODY CAN TAKE A WINTER CRUISE NOW

Thanks to Fitzpatrick's thrilling Traveltalks!

The selection of a short subject on your program is often the factor that sells your show against competition. A Fitzpatrick Traveltalk in Technicolor with exquisite music is a breathing-spell of beauty and fascination on a well-balanced program. Big city or small town, the folks watch for the de luxe cruises to far-off places that are so enjoyable in the Fitzpatrick—M-G-M manner!

FITZPATRICK TRAVELTALKS
in 3-color Technicolor! Pride of M-G-M!

FOR INSTANCE! WATCH FOR "INDIA ON PARADE"

—Taj Mahal, greatest memorial of man's love to woman; first time in full 3-color Technicolor

—$50,000 gold plate on one carriage

—gold and silver cannons

—400 white horses identically matched

—largest elephants in India with gold-knitted blankets

—all the wealth and grandeur of India in beautiful color and music

Coming: "THE RACES AT BOMBAY!"

DeVRY FOR 1937

THE THEATRE PROJECTOR OF THE FUTURE

Streamlined—in dust proof metal case, with solid base—low or high intensity arcs.

DeVry Theatre Projectors Are Strikingly Original—Fewer Parts—Lower Upkeep—Greater Profits.

NEW DeVRY "BRILLANTE" LENS

DeVry Scores Again—with 30 to 40% more illumination. If you need more light, don't buy a bigger lamphouse, till you try the DeVry "Brillante" Lens—It may save you real money. This new lens is now used in Balaban and Katz Theatres, Chicago.

Investigate the DeVry Reel Eternal for 2000 Ft.

THE FILMGOER'S GUIDE TO

1937

Capitol and its associated companies, Buckingham & Trafalgar greet the New Year with a salvo of big hits!

RICHARD TAUBER, the world's greatest singer, will be seen in KARL GRUNE'S screen version of Leoncavallo's immortal opera, "PAGLIACCI" with STEFFI DUNA, DIANA NAPIER, Arthur Margetson, Jerry Verno and Esmond Knight. . . Another film from ELISABETH BERGNER directed by her husband PAUL CZINNER — "DREAMING LIPS" with RAYMOND MASSEY and ROMNEY BRENT as BERGNER'S new leading men. . . ANN HARDING, with BASIL RATHBONE in her first British film, "LOVE FROM A STRANGER" with BINNIE HALE and BRUCE SETON heading a fine supporting cast. TOM WALLS in Ben Travers' "DISHONOUR BRIGHT" with EUGENE PALLETTE and BETTY STOCKFELD. MICHAEL BARTLETT and JUNE KNIGHT in "THE LILAC DOMINO" with the great Hungarian comedian Szocke-Szakall. . . PAUL ROBESON in "SALT"—a drama of the desert. . . . The great Aldwych team re-united, TOM WALLS and RALPH LYNN in "FOR VALOUR." . . . RICHARD TAUBER in "LAND WITHOUT MUSIC" with SCHNOZZLE DURANTE and DIANA NAPIER. . . . these are all completed or in course of completion. And there will be plenty more of the same calibre to come!

THE NEW SEASON

THE new season is notable in many respects.

From every angle pictures are better. I have never known a time when we have had so great a number of truly fine productions.

The excellence of current films is reflected at boxoffices all over the country. Attendance is steadily increasing. Why? It is not so much because general business conditions have improved as because we have better and stronger films.

The public demands, and will support, good pictures. The better the entertainment values, of course, the better the public support. That seems too obvious to need reaffirmation, yet I believe that we in the motion picture industry should always keep it in mind.

If we are to realize full possibilities of service, if we are to continue to deserve public support, we must not relax our efforts.

Movie goers today have learned to be discriminating. They know c choose and support the better films. Productions inferior in concept or content simply will not draw.

We are fortunate to have this season so many outstanding films. The list is impressive. But we are not satisfied with that. We still have the same responsibility to the public. We must march forward year by year to even finer productions.

Our work, our accomplishments, should be judged by the pictures themselves. By that standard we can be proud of the new season and can look forward with hope and encouragement to the future.

Will H. Hays

FILM FACTS AND FIGURES

Approximately $350,000,000 in taxes was collected from the film industry in 1936. While this represented a new peak, a further jump—possibly one of $50,000,000—is forecast for 1937, due to unemployment and social security levies.

Motion picture theaters open on Jan. 1, 1937, totaled 18,192, representing an increase of 2,334 houses in 12 months. Seating capacity increased to 10,440,632 from 10,098,920.

Hollywood production costs in 1936 approximated $135,000,000, representing an estimated advance of $10,000,000 over the previous year. Feature production was about 500.

Gross receipts in 1936 approximated $1,000,000,000, the first time that figure had been attained since 1929.

Investment in theater building and rebuilding soared upward, total financing in 1936 being estimated at $27,000,000.

Foreign revenue of American producers was at the highest point since 1929-30; Department of Commerce figures revealed a nine million foot gain in the first 10 months of 1936 over the same period in 1935.

Theater equipment supply business in 1936 advanced approximately 30 per cent.

Freak record "long run" of 1936 was six months' stay of "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town" at the Blue Mouse, Portland, Ore.

Foreign features imported during 1936 totalled 213, a decline of 28; 40 of the foreign features were British, 70 German.

At the close of 1936, 85 per cent. of U. S. film theaters were estimated to be operating with a double feature policy, while give aways blanketed the field.

Film attendance in the U. S. advanced about 10 per cent in 1935 to a total of around 88,000,000 weekly. The box office scale trend was upward. Average weekly attendance in the U. S. over the last 15 years was:

1922	40,000,000	1929	95,000,000
1923	43,000,000	1930	110,000,000

GINGER ROGERS

COLOR

By ARTHUR W. EDDY
Associate Editor, THE FILM DAILY

THE motion picture industry became increasingly color-conscious during the past year and there is every indication that this trend will be substantially advanced during the months ahead. Apart from a larger number of short subjects, particularly cartoons and travelogues, made with this production ingredient, color is gradually establishing itself as an important factor in feature production.

Schedules prepared for the 1936-37 season disclose the fact that there is greater producer confidence in color. A minimum of twenty features, done entirely with this production element, are set for distribution. A substantial majority of them will be made in Technicolor, which continues as the process dominating the field from the standpoint of application.

United Artists will be up front in the color parade with five productions, as follows: "Garden of Allah" and "A Star is Born," both produced by David O. Selznick; one by Samuel Goldwyn, one by Alexander Korda and one by Walter Wanger. Grand National's program also provides for five pictures and Republic has four scheduled, including "The Beloved Rogue." Paramount is down on the list with two, "Safari" and one other; Warner Bros.-First National is planning to make "God's Country and the Woman" and "Desert Song" and 20th Century-Fox is distributing "Ramona" and "Wings of the Morning," the latter from the production facilities of Robert T. Kane in England.

"Ramona," already released, has been hailed as an excellent sample of color production. "Trail of the Lonesome Pine," which Walter Wanger made for Paramount, scored heavily, both at the box office and in the opinion of the reviewers.

Color-minded members of the industry are now anticipating the introduction of the Keller-Dorian process, which Paramount has developed in association with Eastman Kodak. After experiments extending over a long period of years, sponsors of this system are now ready to apply it commercially.

WARNER BAXTER

TELEVISION • TODAY •

By EDWARD HARRISON
Film Daily Staff

Commercial television is a year and more away in the United States. The Federal Communications Commission, which has jurisdiction over television, has decided to restrict it to an experimental status for the present. Furthermore the chief television interests are not ready to launch television because sets cannot be produced to market for less than around $325. Another obstacle is the request of the Army, Navy and other government agencies for most of the ultra high frequencies suitable for television. Since the Army and Navy are not under control of the Federal Communications Commission, President Franklin D. Roosevelt as commander-in-chief of those services, will be called upon to decide how many television channels shall be allocated to commercial television. His decision will determine the progress of television to a considerable extent.

The chief factors in U. S. television at present are the Radio Corporation of America, Philco Radio and Television Co. and Philo T. Farnsworth.

RCA is now transmitting 441-line pictures with 60 interlacings, using a 12-inch square tube as a screen. This gives a picture approximately 8 by 10 inches. Thirty pictures a second are produced by this method. The 441 line picture with 60 interlacings is the standard proposed to the Federal Communications Commission by the Radio Manufacturers Ass'n. for television in the U. S. It is accepted as certain that FCC will set a uniform standard for television so that any set marketed will receive all programs.

Philco Television, like RCA, has begun transmitting 441-line pictures and Farnsworth is equipped to do likewise. Philco is one of the backers of Farnsworth, who is not expected to do any manufacturing of television sets. Both RCA and Philco will manufacture sets.

Advertisers appear ready to hop aboard the television bandwagon. Television shows will be more costly to sponsor than radio shows. Where a bare studio can be used for a dramatic program for a radio broadcast, sponsors will have to provide sets, lights and other trappings for a television broadcast of a similar program. Television will have a decided advantage over radio in that a sponsor will be able to reach a desired audience say at 9 o'clock all over the country by using films.

Present indications are that films will be used on about 50 per cent of radio programs. In contrast to the gloomy view that television might spell the knell of the motion picture theater, there are some who now hold that television will help motion pictures. Samuel Briskin, head of RKO Radio production, has expressed this view.

In addition to the fund of experience accumulated here by RCA's program experiments, the introduction of regular television broadcasts in England late in 1936 is producing a body of invaluable practical knowledge. Television in England is under supervision of the government-controlled British Broadcasting Co. The B.B.C. experimented in alternate weeks with two types of television transmission, that devised by the Electrical Musical Industries Marconi Co., which has the rights to RCA patents, and the Baird System which has a patent inerchange wih Farnsworth in the U. S. The government decided to adopt the EMI Marconi system which produces 405-line images with 50 interlacings. Baird has changed over to the 405 line system from the 240 line transmission he was using.

A demonstration of 441-line television by RCA showed that sight-and-sound broadcasting is a good entertainment medium and will get better as it is perfected.

David Sarnoff RCA president, envisages television as being the greatest user of material and manpower in the history of entertainment. He says that the advent of television may mean that parents who have been wondering about choosing a career for their sons, will make them artists, to provide manpower for television.

FILM DAILY RELIEF FUND

Established 1927

ENTERING its tenth year of service, the Film Daily Relief Fund has become a recognized institution that secures the annual financial support of hundreds of Regular Fellows in our industry. The purpose of the Fund is to assist those identified with the business in and about New York who may require emergency relief through unemployment or sickness. Every penny donated to the Fund goes to actual relief. There are no administration expenses. These are entirely assumed by the Film Daily. The annual drive for funds takes place from Thanksgiving Day 'till Christmas. In that short period sufficient funds must be raised to take care of all needy cases for the ensuing year.

No worthy case is turned away. It is not always possible to render the full financial assistance necessary in all cases, but every effort is made to take care of emergency situations that require immediate monetary relief. Many individuals from high executives to workers in the ranks can be counted upon annually for their financial support. This list is augmented yearly by new names of those who have come to look upon the Relief Fund as a worthy cause that must share in their annual charity donations. The slogan of the Committee is: "Help the needy within our own ranks." Several hundred needy cases are taken care of annually. This assistance is rendered without any embarrassing publicity to those receiving a helping hand. The Film Daily publishes each day during the period of the Drive a complete list of the contributors.

THE COMMITTEE FOR 1937

FOREIGN FILMS

DURING THE PAST YEAR

MADE-IN-ENGLAND pictures are more and more making a definite impression upon the American market and right there the so-called "foreign invasion" comes to an abrupt stop. The output of other foreign producers has little or no commercial significance as far as theaters in the United States are concerned. True, there have been several outstanding French pictures, artistic in character, but these have principally played small houses which specialize in this type of production and have not reached the great mass of theaters.

It is obvious that Britain intends to further seek importance in the American field during the year ahead. Matching Hollywood costs, major English studios are now spending enormous sums on many of their negatives. In pursuit of their ambition to make their product attractive to American picture audiences, they are importing more "fresh" boxoffice names as well as directorial, writing and technical talent.

More than forty features, produced in England, are scheduled for national distribution in the United States during the season of 1936-37. This represents a new record—and indicates a certain amount of receptivity on the part of American exhibitors.

GB with a program of 24 productions, has the largest list. Next in line is United Artis's, which will distribute nine pictures. Of these six will come from Alexander Korda's London Films, two from Criterion, headed by Douglas Fairbanks Jr., and one from Elisabeth Bergner. 20th Century-Fox is planning to import four productions from England, including "As You Like It," and "Wings of the Morning," the latter produced by Robert T. Kane. Columbia's lineup includes "Thunder in the City," produced by Atlantic and starring Edward G. Robinson and "Beloved Vagabond," with Maurice Chevalier and made by Topelitz. Via the M-G-M distribution machinery will be sold "April Blossoms," produced by B. I. P. Additionally, Alliance Films, subsidiary of the John Maxwell interests, will select pictures suitable for the American market from the program of between 12 and 15 to be produced by its English parent.

FILM DAILY GOLF TOURNAMENTS 1922-1936

THIS year will mark the sixteenth anniversary of the Film Daily Golf Tournament. The inaugural event took place at the Oak Ridge Country Club in Tuckahoe, N. Y., on September 27, 1921. Long since the Tournament has become generally accepted as the outstanding outdoor social event of the motion picture industry. To the late Joseph Dannenberg, editor of Film Daily, goes the credit of founding this annual get-together.

In 1928 the popularity of the Tournament was greatly enhanced when team play was introduced. The Motion Picture Club entered a foursome, which was challenged by a team of the Lambs Club. The E. F. Albee Memorial Trophy was the prize. Ever since that year, the Motion Picture Club has met opposing teams of the Lambs, the Friars and the A.M.P.A. For the first time in 1932 the M. P. Club lost the trophy, when the A.M.P.A. team won the prize at the Fenimore Club. The following year the M. P. Club outfit won it back at the Rye Country Club. In the match plays of 1935 and 1936 the A.M.P.A. team has won the coveted prize.

The Tournament has attained tremendous popularity, with a capacity attendance at each annual event. Over 200 golfers are enrolled each year, and find a day of full enjoyment in the golf play, luncheon and banquet in the evening. An increasing number of companies and individuals donate handsome prizes and trophies each year.

INTERNATIONAL MARKET SURVEY

By ARTHUR W. EDDY
Associate Editor, The Film Daily

An international picture of the film industry in its very ramification and phase beyond the borders of the United States and Canada is presented in the Foreign Section of this volume, starting on page 1145. Accurate and complete, it has been made possible through the cooperation of correspondents, film men and the Motion Picture Section of the U. S. Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

Its pages contain all the answers to the question: "How fares the American film industry abroad?" Disclosing the part that American-made productions are playing in world cinematic affairs, the section indicates that despite the enormous obstacles afforded by the foreign field, Hollywood is continuing to recapture the market which was seriously impaired in the early sound era. In the face of trade and other barriers and uncertain political conditions, particularly in Europe, the American film is dominating foreign exhibition. One reason which helps explain the situation, all authorities seem to agree, is that Hollywood-made product is making strides in the direction of international appeal. Coast producers more and more are coming to realize the revenue possibilities of the world market, the section discloses.

England, alone, is producing pictures which are getting any amount of playing time in theaters in the United States. Alexander Korda, United Artists partner, continues to occupy the top individual spot in the British production scheme of things, it is shown. Gaumont British is increasingly becoming a factor from the American standpoint.

Replete with intimate and comprehensive word-photographs of every nook and cranny of the field abroad, the section embraces such feature highlights as surveys of the industry in every country, big and small; outlooks for the year ahead expressing the opinions of leading American foreign department executives, articles covering the activities of the Motion Picture Section of the U. S. Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, lists of producers in England and other lands and the personnel of American company branches throughout the world. All in all, it presents information of vital importance to film-minded folk.

INFORMATION AND FACTS

About The

TEN BEST PICTURES OF 1936

This is the 15th annual poll.

Pictures were selected from a ballot supplied by THE FILM DAILY. Only features released between November 1, 1935, and October 31, 1936, were included on this ballot.

A total of 523 critics voted. Late ballots brought the total of critics heard from up to 534.

More than 500 newspapers are represented with a total circulation of more than 25,000,000.

Millions more heard the Ten Best Dramatized January 7, 1937 on the nationwide "March of Time" broadcast.

Pictures receiving one or more votes totaled 149.

The Honor Roll of pictures receiving 10 or more votes had 44 pictures, against 49 last year.

It is estimated that at least 50 motion picture editors and theaters conducted "local" Ten Best ballots using the official Film Daily list to judge winners.

An Appreciation

As The Film Daily expresses its appreciation of the splendid co-operation accorded by the professional cinema critics and reviewers in this, the 15th annual "Ten Best Pictures" poll, it seems both fitting and proper to note what might appropriately be called the "by products" of these symposiums.

That the polls, with their widespread stimulation of interest in motion pictures on the part of the general public, are of unestimable value to the industry is at once apparent and a matter of record through the decade and a half that they have been conducted.

That they further have played their part in the artistic advancement of the cinema is likewise a truism. Producers, directors, screenwrights, players and all others concerned with picture-making have been spurred to greater endeavor by the knowledge that the "Ten Best" distinction was in fact a national accolade, an honor beyond price.

There is, however, another "by product" which seemingly has escaped attention. Reference is to the part that the annual polls have played in defining and raising critical standards, a matter that the reviewers and critics themselves are generous enough to mention in the many letters accompanying their ballots.

Through the medium of the polls the Broadway and Main Street journalistic servants of the cinema find a common meeting ground for the evaluation of screen art. Criticism, it follows, is the better for that, and pictures will be increasingly so.

The fact that, for the first time in the poll's history, more than 500 critics and reviewers participated is most gratifying. The fact that a new record was set by the number of simultaneous polls conducted by newspapers throughout the United States is still more so. Both bespeak recognition of the cinema as a serious art form and as a vital, integral part of the American scheme of things.

To the critics and to the papers they serve we of The Film Daily would extend not only our deepest appreciation but that as well of a great and sensitive industry.

LONDON

HISTORY MAKERS OF 1936

Thumbnail summaries of personalities whose activities provided major headlines in the past year.

HERBERT WILCOX

PRODUCER

127-133 WARDOUR ST, W.1
LONDON—ENGLAND

• • WILL H. HAYS

Take it from the indefatigable General himself, his long service to the industry is marked by no more interesting happening than his audience with Pope Pius in Vatican City late in 1936. It was an eventful European visit, that trip, for it did much to further a new Italian accord, with Il Duce's government granting concessions sorely needed if the American film industry was to survive in the Italian market. Yes, the General was received by the Premier. Despite the demands made upon his time by his M.P.P.D.A. office, Hays found opportunity to serve as chairman of the Advisory Committee of the Museum of Modern Art Film Library.

JOSEPH M. SCHENCK

Step up and meet the man who was at once the joy of the trade press editor in search of a headline, and the despair of the linotype operator in search of an easy shift. You see it was like this: Joseph M. Schenck is chairman of the 20th Century-Fox board, and naturally a master-key man in any negotiations involving his firm. The more negotiations there are, the more active is Mr. Schenck. Thus it follows that the more active he is, the more news there is. He spent months in 1936 trying to conclude a series of the most vital, and certainly the most complicated, deals in film history . . . those with England's film barons, the Messrs. Ostrer and his own company, plus the Loew interests on the side. He produced more suspense than any score of screenplays. He commuted from coast to coast and to Europe. He also spent a few days in a hospital, and filmland cheered when he emerged with nothing more serious than a slight British accent.

• DR. A. H. GIANNINI

United Artists obtained the industry's ace banker when the producer-owners elected him to the presidency of their corporation. Not only a financial authority who knows the picture business from the inside out, but also an ambassador of good will. A constant proponent of motion pictures as a sponsor of international amity. A man who knows the problems of the industry—and its individual members—and deals with them intelligently and honestly. A counsellor of industry executives—big and small—and whose reputation extends from the movie marts of Hollywood to the downtown financial districts of Manhattan Island—and then right around the world. That, gentlemen, sums up the Doctor.

• • N. M. SCHENCK

A film magnate who decided to buy only one house. He did at Miami Beach, Florida, for winter residence. Friends wondered what use it would be to purchaser who only has to be in a dozen or so places at once. As usual, and as president he headed up Loew, Inc., plus having finger in more pies that Little Jack Horner ever dreamed about. Was in the thick o' the famous Gaumont British negotiations, conferring on both coasts. Also accepted chairmanship of industry's World's Fair bond sales body. Loew's stockholders at annual meeting in December awarded him five year personal service contract and option to purchase 9,698 shares of the late Irving Thalberg's common stock at $40 per share annually during the five year period.

• • H. M. WARNER

You can't spell Warner without that syllable "war". And you can't think of "war" without thinking of courage. You guessed it!—you can't think of courage without thinking of Harry Warner. He is loaded with it. Throughout the lean years when that arch-villian Depression was stalking about, it was H. M. who met him like Horatius at the bridge. "A gamble now upon the future of America", he typically told his eastern and Canadian sales meeting last June, "is the best gamble in the world". He called upon business and industrial leaders everywhere to "loosen purse strings and make present period one of progress and development". He himself set the example. Characteristically he made and fought for "The Green Pastures". Fortune favors the bold. Salute!

• ADOLPH ZUKOR

On January 7th, 1937, this perennial executive celebrated his birthday. Coincidentally Paramount launched a four-months-long International Silver Jubilee celebration for Adolph Zukor, in commemoration of the Paramount founder's 25 years of service to the film industry. The past year saw the Zukor tradition and prestige increase, with his name bobbing up time and again in news stories. Salient among these were: his appointment as generalissmo of company's studio production; the rumored possibility of his restoration to Paramount presidency; and his obvious pleasure at having this post go to Barney Balaban, while he himself was re-elected chairman of the board.

• R. H. COCHRANE

With formation of the new Universal, R. H. Cochrane became president. Right at outset of his assuming office, it became apparent that progressiveness, not precedent, was to be keynote of his policy. On this platform he worked like proverbial beaver, putting both production and distribution forces on a new high standard of efficiency, and communicating his own enthusiasm to those under his command. So that entire organization's speed and power could be effectively utilized, he streamlined it by simplifying the corporate structure both of the company and its subsidiary and allied interests.

• • HARRY COHN

Was innocent cause of it being conclusively proved that letter-carriers go to movies oftener than to colleges. Envelope addressed to President of Columbia went to 729 Seventh Avenue instead of to Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler on Morningside Heights. Spent most of time grinding out sound box-office films, which in turn ground out dividends as usual. Paid a visit or two to New York town. Went through monotonous experience of being re-elected prexy of his outfit. All around success is said to have excited breasts of certain Wall Street gents, alert to be in on a good thing.

• • • LEO SPITZ

In addition to presidency of RKO, this young and exceptional exec. was given identical post by K-A-O, and subsequently made a director of Metropolitan Playhouses, Inc. representing K-A-O's 20 per cent interest in that company. When gossip had it that a merger of RKO and Paramount was contemplated, young Mr. Spitz (being a Chicagoan and used to really strong winds) took the whispering breezes right out of old Dame Rumor's sails by declaring the report "silly". A considerable increment of his time and interests was devoted to the perfecting of the new reorganization plan for RKO.

• BARNEY BALABAN

Early in July, Paramount held a vital board meeting, the action of which the industry at large awaited with uncommon interest. Emerging from this conclave, a director said: "Paramount is back in the hands of showmen." What he meant was that Barney Balaban had been chosen president to succeed John E. Otterson, and Adolph Zukor re-elected chairman of the board. In exclusive interview accorded the FILM DAILY, Balaban stated he would continue as president of B. & K. He took occasion to deny a report that he had been given a one-year contract with Paramount. "I don't need a contract," he said, adding, "I've always been a Paramount man!" Of that the industry is sure.

• • SIDNEY R. KENT

Sidney R. Kent 'way back in 1935 observed that manpower is the main asset and in 1936 there is his own record to prove it beyond the shadow of a reasonable doubt, as they say in legal circles. A busy, eventful 12 months for Kent in 1936, and 20th Century-Fox progress a result. Then, too, there was the GB deal, and its many demands. And, anent GB, Kent was re-elected a director at a stormy shareholders' meeting in December. Kent also will remember 1936 for two strictly personal events: His daughter married, he was made an officer in the French Legion of Honor.

GEORGE J. SCHAEFER

An early United Artists' coup d'etat was the signing of this chap to a three year contract as U. S.-Canadian general manager. He worked up an appetite for a giant testimonial dinner given to him by his armada of industry friends by going to Washington and playing a star role in attacking the Pettengill anti-block booking bill before the interstate and foreign commerce subcommittee. After telling the legislative boys a thing or two, he nonchalantly hied back to Gotham and put on his bib as though nothing had happened. Soon thereafter he was elevated to the U-A first vice-presidency as successor to Mary Pickford.

• LOUIS B. MAYER

His Honor the Mayer of M-G-M let loose his lions, Leo and son, in spectacular fashion. Big Leo growled in unprecedented number of big pix, and Leo, Jr., the little rascal, emulated his dad in fine style. Exhibitors and patrons alike who stepped up and "put it on the lion" invariably got back with interest what they sank in Leo. His Honor, who had considerable to do with all this, stopped rubbing his magic production lamp occasionally, among other things, to sit in on the famous deal between Loew's, 20th Century-Fox, G-B and the Ostrers.

DARRYL F. ZANUCK

You find the 1936 achievements of the energetic, tireless Darryl F. Zanuck written not so much in terms of personal headlines as in those which tell the production story of 20th Century-Fox. Such headlines as for instance that in The Film Daily of Oct. 27: "20th Century-Fox to Deliver 33 Films by Christmas". And again on Nov. 24: "20th Century-Fox to Start 14 for '37 in Six Weeks". In September, Zanuck was elected chairman of the executive committee of the M.P.P.D.A. to succeed the late, lamented Irving Thalberg. About the silliest of all silly stories finding circulation during the year was that hinting that Zanuck was stepping out from his post. It brought emphatic denial from Sidney R. Kent. In early December, Zanuck received the cross of the French Legion of Honor.

• • AL LICHTMAN

In case you want to know exactly what pal Al has been doing of late to earn his board and keep, let's take a look at the record sales of M-G-M for 1936. It's easy to understand why this affable assistant to Nicholas M. Schenck, and master of the art of sales plus distribution, remained pretty much out of news print. Keeping one's nose to the grindstone doesn't make very colorful copy. But he did break into the streamer heads when he took the rostrum in Columbus, Ohio, and told the ITOA parley "facts the independent exhibitor should know". Loew's annual meeting in early December revealed Al had been added to the corporation's roster of vice prexies.

• • NED E. DEPINET

Many a mainspring is unrevealed by the faces of clocks . . . and news stories. Take for example a story such as RKO Distributing Corp. reaching a new high in sales contracts during 1936. Modest mainspring back of this feat is President Ned E. Depinet, who seems to be one of industry's deftest headline dodgers. Nevertheless, his business logic and enthusiasm contributed no little to bringing renowned rodent, Mickey Mouse, into RKO star fold.

• DAVID SARNOFF

David Sarnoff, in after years, likely will look back to 1936 as (A) the year in which RCA and NBC gave the first public demonstration of television's enlarged screen, permitting 7½ by 10 inch pictures and (B) the year in which he was royally dined by employes of RCA and its service companies, the event marking Dave's completion of three decades in the radio industry. The demonstration, strikingly revealing television progress, hinted that commercial television had succeeded recovery in relation to that "corner." It may be turned late in '37.

EARLE W. HAMMONS

Here we have the spice of Educational Pictures, an admirable personage on many counts, chief among which may be mentioned his ability, integrity, acumen, magnetism . . . and his uncanny knack of keeping all his corporate titles straight, — holding, operating, subsidiary companies, et al. He knows the shorts field even better than Rin-Tin-Tin knew in his youth when it was time to eat. He champions this field, too, at the drop of a hat. And he genuinely and sincerely detests dual bills, contending that they cut the equivalent of one show's gross daily from theatres operating on this policy. He said so last June.

Maj. ALBERT WARNER

During great campaign of '36, Major Albert (being a military man) was in the front lines much more than in headlines. One of leading strategists of WB board and vice-president of the company, he could be found most of the time in his luxurious dugout at home office hammering away in Napoleonic fashion. Also wended way frequently to projection room to inspect WB box-office ammunition. Went A.W.O.L. long enough to attend as usual Film Daily Golf Tournament at Glen Oaks.

Martin Mooney

HERBERT B. SWOPE

One of year's misfortunes was loss to the industry of H. B. as an active participant in its affairs. Early in April, he repeated prior resignation from RKO board and withdrew as the K-A-O directorate's chairman, severing last obvious link between him and filmland so as to devote more time to corporate duties in other fields. His son, H. B. Swope, Jr., also left the industry after connecting with Selznick International. Thus in the celluloid kingdom the name Swope became virtually as rare as copies of the first Shakespeare Folio. It's only temporary, we hope.

• ED. L. ALPERSON

On precisely the same date that Paul Revere made his famous ride,—April 18th,—headlines officially told of the ride of Edward L. Alperson from his affiliation with National Theatres Corp. right into the presidency of Grand National, the Pathe subsidiary company known as Premier Film Attractions. The shift was expected, as earlier that month well-substantiated reports had it that negotiations to have Alperson sign on the dotted line were completed. He announced that he and colleagues would handle 30 features during the year. New company's stock went right ahead and got listed on Curb Exchange. In fact GN and prexy E.L.A. went right ahead, too.

• FLOYD B. ODLUM

Formally answering those who eyed questioningly the extensive Atlas Corp. holdings in Paramount, RKO and other companies, Floyd B. Odlum stated that his powerful financial trust does not intend to control, or manage those organizations in which it makes investments. In September, news flashed that passive-appearing but nevertheless dynamically active Mr. Odlum had resigned from Paramount's board, succeeded by Y. Frank Freeman. But the resignation appeared to astute industry observers to have no particular significance as regards Atlas holdings in Paramount stock.

• ISIDORE OSTRER

The head of England's House of Morgan, as far as motion picture affairs are concerned. In other words, the chief figure in the Gaumont British setup, which he heads. Made the front page headlines last summer when he talked to Sidney R. Kent, 20th Century-Fox prexy, Joe Schenck and Loew representatives at London on a deal through which the American firms were to buy the Ostrer control of GB. Suddenly, not to mention dramatically, the situation changed and John Maxwell, Scottish film titan, entered the picture presumably to acquire the Ostrer shares. Isidore Ostrer made more front page reading material when he came to New York, and later Hollywood, last Fall for further GB talks with the Kent and Schencks on a situation, which, from the viewpoint of outsiders, was extremely difficult to understand.

J. CHEEVER COWDIN

"Henry Ford, antiquarian, patents new type of car" . . . "Franklin D. Roosevelt, stamp collector, delivers annual message to Congress." Strange way to refer to these gentlemen in the news? Perhaps,—but consider what happened when J. Cheever Cowdin sailed for Europe late last December. Steamship company's publicity release described him as a "polo player." At first glance this seemed an unusual descriptive title, but on second thought it appeared quite appropriate. When Mr. Cowdin took over board chairmanship of the New Universal, we recall how enthusiastically he swept into the saddle . . . rode high, wide and handsome . . . teamworked to perfection . . . and was in large measure responsible for frequency with which U scored in year following reorganization. But you haven't seen anything yet. Watch him in the 1937 chucker!

• CHAS. R. ROGERS

For the rapid production progress made by the New Universal the snappy salute goes to vice president Charles R. Rogers who climbed into the Universal City saddle with the friendly departure of the Laemmle dynasty. Hard work, and then some more hard work—that's the Rogers' way. Even when he came East in late October, it was no pleasure jaunt, but "strictly business." That business included consultation with England's Herbert Wilcox and the effectuating of an agreement assuring closer co-operation between the British and American studios of Universal affiliation.

• • A. W. SMITH, JR.

If there's a gent who kept the news sleuths' noses to the ground during the dog days of 1936, he's one Andrew W. Smith, Jr.—"Andy" to you. August had barely started when "Andy" resigned as vp of Vitagraph and Warner-First National eastern and Canadian sales executive. Subsequently came reports he would (a) join GN (b) enter the theater field and (c) acquire Walter Reade houses. "Andy" finally cut the reports short by affiliating with United Artists as general sales manager, and the news sleuths went back to normalcy.

GRADWELL L. SEARS

His steady rise in industry ranks continued when Major Albert Warner announced: "Gradwell L. Sears, vice-president of Vitaphone, has been appointed general sales manager for Warner-First National and affiliated companies." Not so bad, is it, for a young fellow who was a First National salesman out Chicago way only a dozen or so years ago. One of his initial acts upon taking new office was to make important shifts in WB branch personnel. It was he, too, who divulged WB's $3,000,000 production budget boost last Autumn.

SAMUEL GOLDWYN

A hospital bulletin, issued while this rugged individual was recuperating from an operation last Summer, tells more eloquently than news files what kind of a year he had. "Mr. Goldwyn" it said, "is doing very nicely." During 1936, film circles hoped he would spend more time telling stories than buying them. Purchased "Dead End," "Angel Making Music," and other stand-out properties. Also announced he and Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., would make "Marco Polo." Continued to prove himself one of most alluring screen magnates, baiting box-offices with such enticing entertainment as "Come And Get It." Latter title is rumored to have been taken literally by Gary Cooper to mean a Goldwyn contract.

• • NEIL F. AGNEW

You can't have a gallery of history-makers without this general sales manager, who put the "mount" in Paramount this past season. If skeptical, just you take a squint at revenue that piled up through his merchandising methods. Company's film rentals skied to highest mark since 1930 B. C. (Before Crash). Any time you feel sorry for yourself, with such details on your mind as your work, buying a new garden hose and a new cowcatcher for little Junior's toy locomotive, be soothed by giving a thought to Mr. Agnew who services 9,400 film accounts plus a flock in non-theatrical brackets.

DAVID O. SELZNICK

It was a swell 1936 for David O. Selznick. His firm, Selznick International Pictures went great guns in initial production year with high quality product, including the literally colorful "Garden of Allah." The firm joined the Hays organization, and sundry other events took place such as his being awarded the 1936 League of Nations medal for his "Little Lord Fauntleroy." David also bagged with his clear judgment and financial sling-shot the screen rights to the Goliath novel of the times "Gone With The Wind". But from his personal standpoint all these happenings took second place in light of the real climax—accommodating Mr. Stork arrived in May and gave a son and heir to the David Selznicks.

M. H. AYLESWORTH

Early in year it appeared that Merlin H. Aylesworth might have enough leisure to take the usual executive hour for lunch. He had only two board chairmanships on his hands, those of RKO Corporation and RKO Radio Pictures. But along came April, and with it the problem of finding a replacement for Herbert Bayard Swope who resigned as chairman of the Keith-Albee-Orpheum board. So they just naturally gave this additional post to Mr. Aylesworth, who later mystified the industry by actually finding time to go to Rochester to attend annual S.M.P.E. convention. While there he also took time to deliver a stirring, star speech calling on majors to cooperate in cutting Hollywood production costs, and advocated both price-hiking and abolition of double bills.

B. P. SCHULBERG, Pres. RALPH A. KOHN, Vice-Pres. and Gen'l Mgr.

• SAMUEL J. BRISKIN

Before you is RKO Radio's vice-president in charge of production. Addressed its annual convention, telling the boys right down boldly that organization intended no raids on other companies for stars, but would build up players from within its own ranks; expressed his opinion on another occasion that films will never go 100 per cent color; and also held that when television comes, it will be boon to the industry. Traveled from coast to home office for conference with president Leo Spitz during RKO reorganization plan's formulation. Was awarded one-year contract to continue in present post, with, it is understood, a long-term contract awaiting him when reorganization is effectuated.

JOSEPH P. KENNEDY

Year's "star reporter." Made study of problems relating to RCA's capital structure and reported findings to board. Retained for $55,000 by Paramount to make survey and report of its business operations from stem to stern. Appointed as aides A. B. Poole, former Pathe treasurer and v.p.; C. J. Scollard, another former Pathe officer; John Ford of Maine-New Hampshire Theaters; and an associate SEC buddy, Joseph R. Sheehan. The full Kennedy report, thorough and enlightening, revealed problems essential to overcome were mostly at studio. Urged giving production department free sway, unhampered by directorate in New York. Further urged placing management in hands of showmen. Paramount did. Result: big results.

• MARY PICKFORD

This first lady of the land of films spent typically energetic year. Headed own producing unit in association with Jesse Lasky. Their Pickford-Lasky Productions, Inc., completed and released "One Rainy Afternoon" and "The Gay Desperado". Company ceased active operation following Lasky's becoming RKO producer. In mid-July she resigned 1st vice-presidency of United Artists, being succeeded by George J. Schaefer, but remained as member of UA board. And in mid-November her betrothal to Charles "Buddy" Rogers was announced.

• JACK L. WARNER

What d'ya mean, you don't believe that yarn about Jack and the Beanstalk! Well, did you notice towering growth of Warner Brothers recently . . . and what sprouted out of its studios? There were "Midsummer Night's Dream," "Story of Louis Pasteur," "Anthony Adverse," "Green Pastures," "White Angel," "Charge of the Light Brigade,"—just to mention a few. In administering their production, Jack used only one magic "bean" . . . his own. Besides, he addressed by telephone from the coast the WB convention at Chicago; visited continental Europe; went to London to transact biz and attend to matters incidental to Bette Davis contract action; and returned loaded with low-down on cinema situation abroad. We don't suppose, either, that you believe it can be June in January. Wrong again! . . . Jack annexed his bride shortly after New Year's, 1936.

• MAURICE OSTRER

Member of the powerful Ostrer family which figures importantly in England's film destinies. Assistant managing director of Gaumont British Pictures Corporation, Ltd., and director de luxe in various affiliated enterprises. Now slated to head GB's producing activities. Came to the United States last Fall to join his brother, Isidore, in negotiations with Sidney R. Kent, Joseph M. Schenck and Nicholas M. Schenck looking toward his company's future.

WILLIAM F. RODGERS

If you feel inclined to argue the point that astronomy and gastronomy have no direct relationship, we'll call William F. Rodgers to the witness stand. For his brilliant career devoted to selling stars in celluloid, the industry gave him two resounding testimonial banquets. Immediate cause of these celebrations was his appointment to general salesmanagership of M-G-M, to succeed the late Felix Feist. The first banquet was masked under simple title of "luncheon." Cinema Club was scene, with S.R.O. sign out plenty early. Metropolitan exhibitors turned out more than 1000 strong at subsequent Waldorf-Astoria dinner.

NAT LEVINE

• • MARK OSTRER

That Gaumont British deal, with its widespread ramifications on both sides of the blue-green Atlantic, served to turn the spotlight full on the Brothers Ostrer, including Mark who doubles as president of GB Pictures Corporation of America and chairman and managing director of GB Pictures Corporation, Ltd. The American company weathered report and counter-report, sales impetus putting GB films into 5,000 U. S. theaters. And Herbert Wilcox, after an American look-see, was so impressed that he urged GB as the proper U. S. distribution agency for all worth-while English films.

• JAMES NORMANLY

After being associated with Dr. A. H. Giannini in banking business for past 26 years both in New York and on the Coast, he joined Universal as comptroller. When William Koenig resigned his post as U's general studio manager, Charles R. Rogers, company's executive vice-president, named Normanly as general manager in charge of studio business and financial contacts. Almost immediately thereafter he was elevated to a vice-presidency. This series of rapid-fire promotions occasioned no surprise among those conversant with his abilities,—which are more than Universally recognized.

• WALTER WANGER

Among John Hancocks affixed to new contracts was that of Walter Wanger, who cleaned up an existing production schedule for Paramount and hied over to the United Artists' camp. Made a longer jump, to Europe. Spent considerable time in Italy viewing film situation, studio projects, and possibilities the land of Il Duce presents for pix-making. Returned whistling a tune sounding like "Boola Boola." Might have been "Giovinezza." Headed for Hollywood to make six features, with first, "You Only Live Once," ready by January '37. Signed Joshua Logan and later Hal Horne as production execs. Joined Hays organization and pointed guns confidently and hopefully to the future.

• • BEN GOETZ

As M-G-M's British production head, he became an habitual commuter between English and American ports. Formed a unit to make four pictures for Leo The Lion in backgrounds of old Blighty. Announced quartette would comprise Silas Marner," with Lionel Barrymore; "A Yank At Oxford"; "The Wind" and "Rage In Heaven." Plans included importing from U. S. a bevy of writers and technicians of the Hollywood clan. Also announced on his April arrival in New York that he would be associated with M-G-M in project calling for building of a laboratory in London.

• WILLIAM KOENIG

A decided coup for the new Universal was its gleaning of William Koenig as general studio manager. Came to the post via Warner Bros. Most of the year he served at Universal City, being the chief chef in the preparation of some swell screen fare, including that renowned and epicurean tidbit, "My Man Godfrey." One November morn, the industry awakened to find that the capable Koenig had resigned his "U" hook-up. No suspense attended the situation, for at once the fact became known that he was bound for M-G-M to take over studio and production managership for that outfit.

• WILLIAM LeBARON

During transition period between former policy and establishment of the unit system of pix making at Paramount studios, William Le Baron was placed in charge of production. Temporary character of his designation quickly evolved into permanency, and, sure enough, that's the way things should and do stand right now. As reward for unflagging enterprise, he was rewarded with month's vacation. Despite intended respite, he traveled 'cross-continent and busied self with plans for future service to company. Interviewed at his N. Y. hotel suite, he stated his favoring more output in eastern studios. He knowns whereof he speaks, when you reflect that he headed Paramount's Astoria plant for quite a spell.

• CARL LAEMMLE, JR.

Stepping out of Universal as the old order changed, giving way to New, Carl Laemmle, Jr., announced he would produce independently, went abroad and returned four months later with a sheaf of stories and plans well in hand for not only production of from three to four features but a fling at Broadway as well. Fulfillment of the ambitious program became "unfinished business" for 1937. So keep your good eye on Junior.

• • B. B. KAHANE

Among the good old Summertime's hot items was the simultaneous announcement on the west and east coasts by the Messrs. Harry and Jack Cohn respectively that they had succeeded in having B. B. Kahane affix his rugged signature to a contract which called for his immediate occupation of a vice-presidential chair at Columbia. Move added pronounced potential strength to the Columbian cohorts, for, as you will remember, this same gentleman not so long ago was one of the key pillars of RKO Radio Pictures,—a vice-president, in fact.

• • HAL HORNE

From post as advertising and publicity head for UA, Prince Hal plunged into active partnership in the Blackstone Agency. But sound-stages summoned and clicking cameras called, so he enlisted under RKO banner as an associate producer, retaining, it is understood his financial interest in Blackstone. When Walter Wanger started expansion program, he induced Hal to accept diadem of a production executive and assigned him at once to handle "Vogues Of 1937," which is slated to be made entirely in Technicolor. Since Wanger is releasing through UA, Mr. Horne is once more linked with his cinematic alma mater.

• • J. H. WHITNEY

A prophesy was fulfilled when he decided that in union there is strength. Financially interested in both Selznick International and Pioneer Pictures, the discriminating John Hay ("Jock") Whitney engineered the absorption of the latter company by the former. In the new set-up he became chairman of the board and at once cleared the decks for intensive action. "It is our hope", he said, "to take a commanding position in the independent field," promptly announcing 10 to 12 major films for 1937.

• • • JACK COHN

If you're searching for a strong, silent man, look no more. He's right here in Columbia's vice - presidential chair, where he is re-seated at every election. From 'way back, his reserve has been a tradition. "Africa Speaks," his colleagues used to say, "but Jack Cohn . . . seldom!" Comments on company and industry topics only when he feels it will be helpful. Recently he revealed his views on Dramatists Guild decision re backing of plays by film producers; pointed out potential advantages of interchanging stars with foreign producers; urged producer control of star broadcasts.

• CARL LESERMAN

Damon had his Pythias. And Grad L. Sears has his Carl Leserman. To elucidate: In the late spring, Leserman, then assistant to Sears (who was functioning as Warner distribution head for the South and West), resigned to join Edward Alperson in the organization of Grand National, becoming general sales manager. But the old ties proved too strong and in November, Leserman quit GN to rejoin Warners and Sears, this time as assistant general sales manager. Sears in the meantime had been made Warners' sales chief.

• • • SAM KATZ

To keep in high gear and smooth operation such an intricate production machine as the M-G-M studios, requires tireless application, plus a thorough knowledge and understanding of the complex cogs,—both human and mechanical. This is the job of Sam Katz. That he is doing it, and exceptionally well, is proof of his patience, tact and ability. Drop in when you're around the Metro lot. By the way, it's quite a lot . . . and so is what administration executive Katz is doing on it. Little wonder, then, that Loew's annual meeting revealed his addition to that company's list of vice presidents.

LARRY DARMOUR

HOLLYWOOD, CALIF.

• • JESSE L. LASKY

For a second successive year, a major change in the affairs of this film veteran provided a major headline. In 1935, Lasky left Fox, formed, with Mary Pickford, Pickford-Lasky Productions. That association went into eclipse this year, and in mid-October came the news that Lasky had signed with R-K-O Radio as producer. The niche that he fills in the affections of industry leaders was instanced markedly when 250 did him honor at an AMPA luncheon in May.

• ARTHUR W. KELLY

You can't take much stock in whispering campaigns, but Samuel Goldwyn is said to have gotten his inspiration to make "Marco Polo" from the dramatic manner in which this U-A vice-president in charge of foreign sales jumped from continent to continent. Journeyings also spread report the "W" in A. W. K. name stands for wandering. During his hegira he visited Europe, and blithely bounded down to South America, where he held more conferences than all the Pan-American nations combined. At this writing his lonesome home-office associates are still singing "Has Anybody Here Seen Kelly".

ALEXANDER KORDA

Infant 1936 had just begun to waddle when Alexander the Great was awarded the British medal for his 'Sanders of the River." As the year advanced, a fire occurred in his new studios, which a London wag ascribed to the hot production pace. American film fans got an eyeful of several Korda classics released through United Artists—"Things to Come", "The Ghost Goes West" and "Rembrandt". In the midst of the British constitutional crisis—or was it?—he announced his intention to make a feature about Queen Victoria.

• EMANUEL COHEN

After interlude of producing for Columbia, this former head of the Paramount studios formed his own company, Major Pictures, and concluded deal with Paramount to make eight for release through their exchanges. Promptly leased General Service Studios in Hollywood and signed Joe Nadel, president of Associated Assistant Directors in New York, as his general production manager.

• • FRANK CAPRA

There is no record of his being a dyed-in-the-wool Boy Scout. But there is mighty proof that he did perform one of the year's outstanding Deeds, with a capital letter, by bringing a certain gentleman by that name to town via a brilliantly directed screen vehicle. Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences thought so much of him that they held him over for a second year as president. Those millions who form the Capra cult are waiting on pins and needles to his revealing "Lost Horizon", the Columbia production to which he has devoted most of his time, energy and genius in recent months.

• • W. R. SHEEHAN

Just before Washington's Birthday in 1936 the air was filled with flurries, including news of a union twixt Mr. Sheehan and Paramount. As deal was originally reported he was to make ten pix for his new affiliate. But as March marched on, negotiations were called off. Again last November, a news box contained denial by Dr. A. H. Giannini of a report that Mary Pickford was selling her interest in UA to this same Mr. Sheehan. There is nothing in the writings of Isaac Walton re W. R.'s angling ability, but we're going on record now as saying that when he angles, he angles. Watch him in 1937.

W. RAY JOHNSTON

It was an eventful year for W. Ray Johnston, the 12 months recorded in history as 1936. How else could you fairly describe a year which brought Johnston's withdrawal from Republic, his decision to revive Monogram, Republic's forerunner, and the subsequent incorporation of Sterling Pictures Corporation, Sterling Productions, Inc., Sterling International Corporation and Sterling Exchanges, Inc., as new Johnston allied ventures? An ambitious agenda, that, with 1937 certain to bring lively developments. In late December, Monogram directors authorized the repurchase of the company's outstanding capital stock, a step towards Monogram-Sterling merger.

PROPHECY

As The March of Time enters its third year, more than 9982 theatres throughout the world, 7500 theatres in the U. S., show a new issue every four weeks.

Only time can tell whom The March of Time will present as its Stars for the coming season. Yet when they flash across the 9982 screens that regularly show The March of Time, in sharp, clear focus against a significant background of world-news, they will become objects of universal interest. For on them may depend the rise or fall of an empire, the prosperity of an industry or the turn of an election.

As time marches on during the coming season, The March of Time will add many such stars to that important gallery of statesmen, messiahs, dictators and just plain people that have already attracted millions to the world's box offices.

• • • NAT LEVINE

Shake hands with one of the outstanding independent producers who has just resigned as Republic's production chief. You can do it on both coasts because he's just as likely to be found on one as the other. The rest of the time he was hatching some fifty pix, including more than a score of features, eight or so stunt dramas and about sixteen westerns.

• MAJOR E. L. BOWES

That wheel of fortune continued to turn all right, all right for the engaging Major. His amateurs came up for air, and stage bookings, in such quantities that it appeared as if the U. S. A. was predominantly composed of bird imitators, trick tuba players and other folk capable of performing in odd and interesting fashion. He produced some Amateur Hour shorts for RKO, and plans more of same type for Biograph in 1937. He also put out Amateur Hour stage units with Lou Goldberg, formerly with various major film companies, as project's general manager. He switched from NBC to CBS under Chrysler sponsorship.

• ED KUYKENDALL

Prexy of the M.P.T.O.A., intent upon settling industry disputes within its borders and not in Washington, state legislatures or the law courts. Chief plugger for the organization's 10-point trade practice program and antagonist of the Congressional bills seeking to outlaw compulsory block booking, he appeared at hearings on measures at Washington.

• ERNST LUBITSCH

During personnel reorganization by Paramount, the versatile Lubitsch held down dexterously the post of managing director of company's production. Then he treated himself to a well-earned three month's vacation in Europe with Mrs. Lubitsch, the former Vivian Gaye. Returning from abroad, he stopped off briefly in New York, and headed for Hollywood to complete plans for his own unit to fashion features for Paramount. He signed Marian Spitzer as story editor, lighted another cigar and went to work. When the industry began fretting about screen stars broadcasting, analytical Ernst tapped off a few ashes and cagily counseled, "Go easy!"

• • L. W. CONROW

Among the more important executive adjustments in the film business brought L. W. Conrow into a new and more responsible niche. From position of general manager of ERPI Eastern Division, he was advanced to general operating manager, reporting to executive vice-president Whitford Drake. Conrow now is in full charge of all installation and service east of Rocky Mountains. His sphere includes the headquarters' operating department divisions which are combined with eastern and central headquarters division, the latter being thereby abolished as separate entities. In addition to these duties he has charge of the merchandising department. Wonder when he sleeps!

GEORGE A. HIRLIMAN

Perfected new color process known as Hirlacolor. Applied for patent on camera device which simplifies color photography and makes it possible to handle color practically same as black and white. Came east for confab with RKO execs. Returned to coast and moved his unit bag and baggage into RKO Pathe studios to make 21 releases. Organized new firm, Condor Pictures, Inc., in association with Amedee J. Van Beuren, and Albert H. Lieberman, Philadelphia financier, with paid-in capital of $1,250,000. Was one of industry's most active sons during '36.

• A. J. VAN BEUREN

Gave to the screen a bevy of outstanding shorts which he released through RKO following closing of deal with that organization. Program calling for 32 subjects consisted of 13 Bill Corum sport reels; 6 Struggle To Live; 7 World On Parade; and 6 of new series titled Unusual Personalities. In association with George Hirliman, he formed the new Condor Pictures, Inc. Despite inroads made generally by duals on outlets for shorts, the Van Beuren line-up did very nicely, we can assure you, and so will the net figures of this man's corporation when all the returns are in.

• HERBERT J. YATES

When you look behind the guns, you'll find certain men back of them. In the case of Herbert J. Yates, you will see him behind several guns at once. It's no apparition, but the oft-prevailing way in this interesting industry of ours. Among many things he is president of Consolidated Film Industries and a moulder, to a very large degree, of the destinies of Republic Pictures.

• EDWARD FINNEY

Out of a clear summer sky came announcement of his resignation as Republic's advertising and publicity director, and appointment to corresponding post by Grand National. In addition to assigned duties, decided to become a producer. Formed Boots And Saddles Productions to make series of 8 westerns for release through GN. Spotted Tex Ritter in rodeo troupe and wisely signed him for lead roles. Found himself occupying most unique position in industry,—that of being publicity-advertising mogul for his own product and the releasing company.

• • • TREM CARR

Meditation requires leisure. At outset of year, Trem Carr had plenty of latter, so went in for plenty of former. This leisure, as you remember, came about when he relinquished post as Monogram's vice - president in charge of production, and sold, for a reported half million or so, his interest in that company at time it evolved into Republic. His meditations are said to have included consideration of Paramount's offer to sign him. Signed with Universal instead.

• • BUDD ROGERS

Right at outset of 1936. British International Pictures, headed by John Maxwell, sallied forth to annex a brand new vice-president and general manager for Alliance, its American subsidiary. Choice was up-and-doing Budd Rogers, Republic's eastern division sales manager. Enjoyed solid, substantial, successful year,—and so did Alliance under his guiding eye and hand.

• SCOTT R. DUNLAP

Scott R. Dunlap stepped into the 1936 headline parade in late November when W. Ray Johnston announced that the former director would be vice president in charge of production for Sterling Pictures Corp. and vice president of Sterling Productions, producing subsidiary. This was a forward step in Monogram's revival. To accept the post, Dunlap withdrew from Frank and Dunlap, agency in which he had been a partner for seven years.

• • HARRY ARTHUR

In addition to his management of the Roxy, New York, as trustee, Harry Arthur became a dominant figure in St. Louis exhibition. As head of F. & M. Service Corp., which operates six downtown de luxers in the Missouri city, he also took over affairs of 22 St. Louis Amusement Co. houses there, following settlement of the famed St. Louis anti-trust case. By way of a hobby, Harry also won a few score blue ribbons through his thoroughbreds and canines.

• • R. A. ROWLAND

Nineteen thirty-five (remember? of course you do, that was year before last) saw Richard A. Rowland joining Metro - Goldwyn - Mayer as a production executive. That affiliation was dissolved in 1936 and Dick turned to Paramount, completing the first Richard A. Rowland Production, "I'd Give My Life" in July. But perhaps the biggest news came in November when Prexy Edward L. Alperson of Grand National announced Rowland would make eight productions for his company, half to be made for the current season.

• • E. V. RICHARDS

Nineteen thirty-six closed far more happily than it began for the estimable E. V. Richards, prexy and general manager of Saenger Theaters, Inc. The year scarcely was underway when E. V. was laid low by a leg ailment. But you can't keep a good man down, and so Saenger, via Richards, forged ahead, purchasing—for "a small fortune"—the A. H. Yoemans circuit, reopening and building houses and otherwise strengthening its position in the south. As addenda, there's the fact that E. V. was elected to the directorate of Paramount.

• B. P. SCHULBERG

That Big Ben intended to wind-up with Columbia and join 20th Century-Fox proved to be a false alarm. What he did, however, was finish "Meet Nero Wolfe" for the Messrs. Cohn & Co.; incorporate B. P. Schulberg Pictures with self as president, Ralph Kohn as vice president-treasurer, and Louis E. Swarts, secretary; and then closed deal to make 16 pix for Paramount over period of two years. Set mid-July for launching production, after taking over Prudential Studio on long-term lease. Being a gallant gent, his first gesture was to deliver "Wedding Present" to his ole love Paramount upon their business remarriage. Looks like a mighty fertile union.

• HARRY M. GOETZ

When tempted to make that lame excuse "I didn't have time,"—consider the example of Harry Goetz. This hard-hitting veteran accomplished much, and tucked a few trans-Atlantic and trans-continental trips in to boot. Delivered, among other things, Reliance Pictures' "Last Of The Mohicans" to UA. Continued association with Edward Small in Reliance, which hooked up with RKO Radio on arrangement to release 6 pictures through latter. Announced as extra curriculum activity that he would do a little more producing on his own. Joined forces with Max Gordon and headed up their plays and pictures company. It looks like a case of them that has, Goetz.

• • HAL ROACH

Triumph and trial. These two words marked the 1936 road of Hal Roach. He produced during the year an unprecedented program of features and shorts, including series of his famous "Our Gang" comedies. All this product attained a higher standard of quality, in addition to quantity. And, late in '36 he announced plans for eight—count 'em eight—features. Several changes took place in company's personnel, both Henry Ginsberg and David Loew resigning their executive posts. Hal signed Fred Newmeyer to a long-term director contract and blazed away in inspired fashion with his activities. But like Pagliacci, who made the world laugh only to discover how deep are the sorrows it can hold . . . Hal Roach lost his father.

HARRY D. BUCKLEY

In his first year as a UA vice-president, and likewise as a member of the Hays Office directorate, this astute individual convincingly demonstrated his executive mettle, taking an active hand both in formulating and putting into practice many of the company's more important policies. Constantly during 1936, his desk was an all-important link between home office activities and the top-flight administrative heads.

• • WALTER READE

Every day and in every way it's getting easier and easier to memorize the Encyclopedia Britannica than the list of Walter Reade's theaters. Formed American Community Theaters Corp. to construct 100 new theaters in five years in communities of over 5,000 population throughout U. S. and Canada where houses are obsolete or non-existent. Took in as associates L. N. Olmstead, v.p. of American Seating Co.; Frank V. Storrs, banker; Carl E Schuster, statistician; Charles J. Bryan and Walter Reade, Jr. Broke ground in December at Toms River, N. J., for first of these model theaters. Got steam shovel ready to do same at Saratoga.

• • SOL LESSER

The Lesser name was no stranger to trade publication presses. He packed a lot of activity into 12 short months. His company, Principal Productions, turned out product for both 20th Century-Fox and RKO release. Latter acquired his hit "Let's Sing Again" for world distribution. So successful were his Bobby Breen pictures that he doubled budgets on forthcoming films of this star. Announced his 1937-38 line-up which includes 6 for 20th Century-Fox and 3 Breens for RKO. Former group to be made up of 4 starring Richard Arlen, and 2 Tarzan epics. Planned constructing at Hollywood new $350,000 studio with three sound stages. Treated himself to a trip to Europe as year expired.

• • C. C. PETTIJOHN

That Kentucky Colonels can stand up under fire better than the most valiant Prussian guardsmen is no longer debatable. Colonel Pettijohn, general counsel for the Hays Office, proved this repeatedly during the year. Crossed swords in Washington with Senate interstate commerce committee members, telling them that discarding of block booking would boost distribution costs from present 26 per cent to possibly 45 per cent. Battled Pettengill bill; Nathan Yamins, Allied States' president, and Abram F. Myers, Allied's general counsel before the House interstate and foreign commerce committee. Declared block booking bills are unconstitutional. Declared also that whether Gov. Ruby Laffoon went out of office or not, Kentucky Colonels would carry on "Once a colonel, always a colonel!" said Pettijohn.

• ARTHUR M. LOEW

In keeping with best traditions of the gallant Arthurian age, this modern knight paraded the M-G-M banner through many lands as the company's foreign activities head. He had to keep his vizor lifted high to keep track of all the varied events which occurred on Europe's many flaming horizons,—events which were vital both to M-G-M and the industry in general. Much of the time he kept one eye fixed on Italy where his organization's interests were threatened by Mussolini government decree; while the other eye watchfully observed Spain where civil war menaced the Metro machinery. That he accomplished these and other feats without the aid of a revolving stage speaks well for his stability, —and that of his center of gravity.

• • ROBERT SISK

In role of RKO associate producer, this young gentleman made things hum and fulfilled the bright predictions folks made concerning him at time of his taking post. Name flashed frequently in print in connection with such pictures as "The Plow And The Stars," "M'Liss," "Two In Revolt" and "Annie Oakley." Stuck close to Hollywood scene and sound stages, not even once visiting his native eastern seaboard. As result of recent accomplishments, you will find the Sisk label attached to several of the more important RKO features set for '37.

• • WALT DISNEY

He, Mickey and Minnie continued to discredit dusty proverb that best laid plans o'mice and men gang aft agley. Public acclaimed them as usual. French government made Walt a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor for his outstanding contributions to world of art and entertainment. 1936 International Exposition at Venice awarded him its gold medal for best animated cartoons, after giving his entries "Mickey On Ice," "Three Orphan Kittens" and "Who Killed Cock Robin" the once over. Early in '37, he and the fascinating fabled folk he fashions will go under RKO banner. Our Mr. Disney expects eventually to specialize, 'tis said, on feature productions, limiting output of shorts to an even dozen.

• J. E. BRULATOUR

How is the film industry doing? Any time you want to make a quick and accurate survey along this line, find out first how this gentleman is doing. His activities always form a vital index, for as Jules Brulatour goes, so goes the nation. He contributed heavily to making Eastman Kodak cards in the FILM DAILY'S news files monotonous,—in prosperity stories. Earnings up . . . Dividend . . . Reports increase in earned surplus . . . Wage and stock melons . . . Adopting annuity plan. These are but a few of the many such entries during 1936. It's very simple to figure how all these things came about. Mr. Brulatour happens to be the distributor of Eastman film.

HARRY H. THOMAS

Early in Spring, Frank Kolbe and Robert T. Atkins of Pathe negotiated deal with Harry Thomas whereby their firm agreed to buy up latter's stock in First Division, and his contract as president which had about three years to go. Harry siezed opportunity to take vacation, announcing on return his intentions to form new company. He did, calling it Mutual Motion Picture Distributors. Closed deal to handle U. S. distribution of 12 features to be produced in England by James A. FitzPatrick; closed another with Maurice Conn to become his business associate and produce 14. Closed another with William Hackel to make 16 action pix, then brought brothers Edward and Victor Halperin into company with their line-up. Why doesn't somebody make an action picture of Harry?

DURING the past season we delivered 24 attractions with gratifying results to more than 5,000 exhibitors.

For next season we will again release not less than 24 Class A productions.

Each will be selected, budgeted and produced to deliver even more gratifying results to exhibitors and the public.

• ROBERT T. KANE

Headed up 20th Century-Fox British cousin company, known as 20th Century-New World. Brought lots of good judgment and experience to venture, going at the job logically and enthusiastically. Dickered to bring William Powell, Carole Lombard, Margaret Sullavan and Dolores Costello Barrymore to England for leads in his features. Also went after William K Howard, George Cukor, Tay Garnett and James Cromwell to direct. Announced four pictures and started ball rolling. Line-up was "Wings Of The Morning," "Cyrano de Bergerac," "Under The Red Robe" and a fourth untitled.

• JOSEPH BERNHARD

The president and general manager of Warner theater operations grabbed off a few more laurel wreaths for himself. Theater zone managers concluded their first quarterly meeting by tendering him dinner at the St. Moritz. H. M. Warner emerged from mid-June directors meeting to let it be known that Joseph Bernhard was elected member of WB Pictures' board. Big business all over the land asked permission to use the Bernhard-coined slogan "Expense is the enemy of Profit." Had satisfaction also of seeing son Jack promoted from Pittsburgh booking office of Warners' to more important job with Mervyn LeRoy's producing unit in Hollywood.

• • DAVID L. LOEW

After joining Hal Roach organization as executive vice-president, this scion of the House of Loew resigned the post, thus ending a three-year contract signed only a few months before. Opened negotiations to make feature product for Columbia release, but suddenly aligned himself with RKO as a unit producer. Being interested in widest possible horizon, he went for the Joe E. Brown smile, getting the star to sign on the dotted line. Put him in top role of first scheduled release for RKO. Titled the feature "When's Your Birthday?" and started right out to shoot in RKO-Pathe studios.

W. G. VAN SCHMUS

Step right up and meet Mr. Van Schmus. As you might expect from the managing director of a cozy little 6,300-seat house like the Radio City Music Hall, he does things himself on a grand scale. In these days of double malted milks, double indemnity policies and double features, it is refreshing to find a host who gives double parties. Such an ingenious one is W. G. He started this form of shindig by throwing a brilliant affair to celebrate opening of Samuel Goldwyn's "Strike Me Pink" and Ethel Merman's birthday. Threw another one for local gentry and the visiting members of Britain's Cinematograph Association and their wives. Party was such success that entire English contingent's itinerary nearly ended permanently in New York.

• • • E. C. MILLS

Battling on several fronts in the interests of Ascap, of which he is general manager, E. C. Mills had a lively and interesting time of it, and didn't pull any punches. Characterized Duffy copyright bill as "terrible for the motion picture industry, for exhibitors and for users and producers of copyright music." Went to Congressional committee hearing at Washington and spoke his mind, advising strongly against entrance in Berne convention. Later commuted to Canada. Threatened withdrawal of Ascap from Dominion. Then worked out new music tax rates with leading exhibitor interests there. When others opposed new rates, Mr. Mills stated in substance that Ascap would not withdraw, but would operate "under conditions as they developed."

• • H. S. CULLMAN

"Producers cannot fulfill their functions as business executives when a great percentage of their time is spent with bankers, lawyers and organization committees." stated this sage in address at N. Y. U. School of Education. Ascribed most of industry's tribulations during past few years to double bills. When GB delegates met in New York, he feted them on accasion of opening at Roxy of "It's Love Again." Made application to U. S. District Court for interim allowances of $20,000 for his services as Roxy Theater trustee from December, 1935. He had already received $40,000.

GRAND NATIONAL PICTURES
Season 1936-1937

SNOW COVERED WAGONS—Grand National Special
Terms to be negotiated upon release.

2 JAMES CAGNEY
Cagney, one of the ten international leading favorites, in two smash hits.

4 DOUGLAS MACLEAN
Douglas MacLean, actor-writer-director-producer, a seasoned and experienced veteran, produces four top productions for Grand National.

2 VICTOR SCHERTZINGER
Victor Schertzinger heading his own production unit for the first time will deliver two musical sensations comparable to his famous "One Night of Love."

4 RICHARD A. ROWLAND
Dick Rowland, the man who made some of the biggest stars of the screen and is chiefly responsible for such hits as "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," "Flaming Youth," "Black Oxen," "The Sea Hawk," and "Cavalcade," will deliver four ultra-modern romantic dramas.

5 BENNIE ZEIDMAN
One of the few commercially minded producers in Hollywood will make five pictures with an eye directed to the box-office.

3 ZION MYERS
The producer who gave you "Roberta" and "The Gay Divorcee" will make three outstanding money hits this season.

7 GEORGE A. HIRLIMAN
This group will include three pictures in natural color, and four "Federal Agent" melodramas.

4 SHADOW MYSTERIES
Based on the famous radio and magazine character, with an outstanding star creating the role.

4 SECRET SERVICE MYSTERIES
Thrilling dramas of the Government Men matching wits with the overlords of crime.

KILLERS OF THE SEA
Exploitation sensation of 1937 with some of the most amazing undersea shots ever filmed. Watch for this.

8 STAR ATTRACTIONS
Some of the best featured names on the screen in a series of absorbing modern dramas.

8 MUSICAL WESTERNS
Starring Tex "The Singing Cowboy" Ritter. Ritter is rapidly becoming the number one western star of the screen.

ZEIDMAN FILM CORPORATION

PRODUCTIONS LTD.

EIGHT PRODUCTIONS FOR GRAND NATIONAL

"SINS OF CHILDREN"

co-starring Eric Linden and Cecilia Parker

First Grand National release, hitting box office records all over the country. Suggested by the best selling novel of all times.

Charles M. Sheldon's "In His Steps." Over 8,000,000 copies sold in America—12,000,000 in Europe.

"WHITE LEGION"

with

Ian Keith and Tala Birell and an all star cast

Powerful drama, romance and color of the men and women who built the Panama Canal. Second Grand National release, now playing first runs in leading circuits.

"GIRL LOVES BOY"

Co-starring the perfect love team of the screen

Eric Linden and Cecilia Parker

Young love set against idyllic New England background. Romance in all its glory from the story by Karl Brown and Hinton Smith, and screenplay by Duncan Mansfield and Carroll Graham.

"SWEETHEART OF THE NAVY"

Rollicking, gay and zestful comedy-drama of the Navy, with important screen names in the leading roles. Screenplay by Carroll Graham.

"THE FIVE LITTLE PEPPERS"

Perennial American classic to be adapted from Margaret Sidney's famous novel which sold over 2,000,000 copies.

"ROGUE'S GALLERY"

Powerful melodrama of law and order versus the criminal world pitted against heart-tugging romance. An original story by Willard Keefe, famous New York dramatist and critic.

"ST. ELMO"

Another best seller with more than a million sales in America alone.

This dynamic romance by Augusta Jane Evans Wilson, never to be forgotten, will be modernized in a new and virile screen treatment.

"TEMPEST and SUNSHINE"

One of the best known American romances by Mary J. Holmes. Read by countless thousands. Companion novel to the great "Lena Rivers." Will be a screen classic.

NEW YORK CLIPPER

NO ARTIST TOO BIG —
NO ARTIST TOO SMALL
WILLIAM MORRIS

¶ In every field of public entertainment throughout the world, the name of WILLIAM MORRIS has been pre-eminent since the turn of the Century . . . Today and during the years to come, the glorious principles of work, service, helpfulness and integrity instilled by the founder will continue to be the guiding spirit of the organization.

¶ Motion Pictures, Radio, Vaudeville, Legitimate and Presentation Theatres, Authors, Publishers, Hotels and Cafes . . . as well as every other form of public amusement enterprise — executives, sponsors, advertising directors and performers — all are encompassed in the far-reaching activities of the WILLIAM MORRIS AGENCY.

¶ More talent from novice to established star has been developed by this organization than any other agency in show business . . . nurturing their talents, solving their problems, managing their affairs, and presenting their potentialities in every direction . . . an unparalleled service to the entertainment world.

THE HELL WITH CLIENTS

1. Whose only use for a publicity man (public relations counsel or rose by any other name) is to have him plant stale, bum jokes in columns and credit these to them.

2. who want a stooge (lobbygow, or t.l. by any other name) to yell at when critics give them their just deserts.

3. who evade complete cooperation with the man who should be lawyer, healer and inspiration to them.

BUT I'LL TAKE THREE, ONLY

1. who will put their public destinies in my hands exclusively.

2. who will follow my advice and efforts fully and faithfully.

3. who can afford (and I mean WILL afford) a minimum of $10,000 per annum for my services.

Details to bona fide inquirers who are impressed with my service to UFA, ASCAP, EDWARD L. BERNAYS, FIFTH AVENUE PLAYHOUSE, EMIL JANNINGS, ERICH POMMER, LOTHAR MENDES, SUNNYSIDE HOME OWNERS, ATLANTIC FILM PRODUCTIONS, LTD., and various commercial accounts.

ANNOUNCES

For

Season 1937-1938

FOUR HUGE SPECIALS

"UNKNOWN"

By Zarah Tazil

An original epic to be produced in Africa with an all star cast. This story of burning love and a horrible revenge takes place in teaming Fez, the Sahara Desert, Agadire and the Atlas Mountains. Employing thousands of Arabs, Riffs, dancing girls, fakirs and Legionnaires with hundreds of horses and camels.

"THE DEVIL'S FINGER"

By Zarah Tazil

An all star cast assisted by Satan's imps in this weird saga which takes place in sets built by the devil! Born with the curse of the devil's finger, he goes through life hating mankind until a woman shows him the road to love. Vital with human interest and uncanny mystery.

EIGHT

Super—Action—Westerns

16,170 FEATURE RELEASES

TITLES OF FEATURE MOTION PICTURES RELEASED IN THIS COUNTRY SINCE 1915, INCLUDING AMERICAN AND FOREIGN-MADE FILMS.

Probably the most complete list of features, released during the past 21 years, is included herewith. Pictures, distributors and Film Daily review dates are indicated. Distributors are noted with code letters, the key to these codes starting on this page. The actual list of titles is begun on page 249.

Pictures released since the coming of sound are indicated as follows: AT—all-talking; PT—part-talking; S-SE—synchronized sound effects.

Another title reference list lists ORIGINAL TITLES of books and plays made into motion pictures under titles other than the original. This compilation starts on page 446.

Complete credits on 1936 releases may be found starting on page 145.

EVEN THE SPHINX IS BEGINNING TO TALK!

(And when a guy makes the first statement in thousands of years it's worth listening to. Listen on next page!)

"Listen folks, I've been around since show business started. I heard Solomon plug his own songs and I was there when Samson did his strong man act on Bank Nights and believe me—NOTHING IN ALL SHOW HISTORY EQUALS METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER THIS WONDERFUL YEAR! I guess old attractions like me will have to step aside for that EIGHTH WONDER OF THE WORLD LEO, THE M-G-M LION!"

THE SPHINX FINALLY SAYS A MOUTHFUL!

"Aw gee, folks, it's nice of Sphinxy to say those things. But all I'm trying to do is to pack your theatres this year as in the past years. The 1936-37 season is still young but look at M-G-M's hit parade, to mention just a few 'GREAT ZIEGFELD', 'GORGEOUS HUSSY', 'LIBELED LADY', 'BORN TO DANCE', 'LOVE ON THE RUN', 'AFTER THE THIN MAN', 'CAMILLE', 'LAST OF MRS. CHEYNEY' and the Spring Season will be bright with 'MAYTIME', 'CAPTAINS COURAGEOUS', 'A DAY AT THE RACES', 'PARNELL' and a flock of other Big M-G-M attractions. And imagine having two roadshows at one time! 'ROMEO AND JULIET' in its first 500 advanced price, twice-daily runs tops the rosy roadshow records of 'Great Ziegfeld' and 'THE GOOD EARTH' has just begun its history-making career. Confidentially its being talked about already as the Best Picture of 1937. Oh, mister exhibitor, treasure that M-G-M contract. It's a gold mine!"

AND
BLUSHES!

(Next page please!)

HONORS FOR M-G-M's LEO!

TOPS FILM DAILY "10 BEST"!
"Mutiny on the Bounty" selected as Best Picture of the year by 523 American film critics. M-G-M gets 4 out of Film Daily's Annual "Ten Best" for 3rd successive year.

M. P. HERALD B. O. CHAMPS
M-G-M retains lead with nearly one-third of all hits voted by exhibitors since survey began in 1930. (31 out of 111)

TOPS 11 YEAR SURVEY
M-G-M has one third of all hits voted in Film Daily "Ten Best" poll for eleven years. (35 out of 110)

"NATIONS" HONOR ROLL
M-G-M only film company mentioned in honor roll of American achievements in '36, an annual feature of this magazine.

TOPS MONEY STARS
M-G-M leads exhibitor poll with 4 out of 10 in M. P. Herald's Annual Survey.

YEAR'S BEST PERFORMANCE
Luise Rainer voted best actress of year by N. Y. Critic's Guild for her work in "Great Ziegfeld"

TOPS "VARIETY" CHECK-UP
M-G-M leads in top money films, in top money directors. In Worldwide Star Survey M-G-M leads with 4 out of 10.

SURE HE'S THRILLED!

More M-G-M honors in the past year than ever before! But Leo is busy. No time for taking bows. Pictures talk! Sure he loves the honors and thanks his kind friends but HITS are his career! Enjoy life in 1937—another up-ROAR-ious year with your pal Leo!

HAL ROACH FEATURE COMEDIES

LAUGH HITS from "A LOT OF FUN"— since 1914

Introduced the wider scope of feature-length attractions. Hal Roach brings to the picture business the practical down-to-earth showmanship which 23 years of direct-audience contact have taught him. He is showman-producer for showmen!

Producer

Unquestionably Pete Smith is the greatest box office name in the shorts field and deservedly so.—Wilkerson in the Hollywood Reporter. A Pete Smith short holds ten times the audience value of a cheap feature on a double bill.—Mark Hellinger, Hearst papers. Time out, please, from the customary film reviews to doff our editorial chapeau to Pete Smith, who makes our favorite film shorts.—Beverly Hills in Liberty Magazine. Pete Smith, better than anyone I know, puts over these sports reels.—Louella O. Parsons, Hearst papers. Tremendously important are the Pete Smith-MGM Oddities.—N. Y. State Exhibitor Weekly. Pete Smith's monicker on the marquee means 100% entertainment.—Arthur Ungar, Variety Daily. We've found nothing of abbreviated cinema nature quite so entertaining as the Pete Smith series.—Jack Alicoate, Film Daily.  Pete Smith has become famous as being one of the most truly humorous of all the group writing and speaking the incidental talk for one reelers.—Mollie Merrick. In the national vote of exhibitors for the best shorts conducted by the Jay Emanuel Publications, Pete Smith was the only one to win awards in two classes, the best sports subject and the best novelty subject of the year.—Los Angeles Daily News.  Pete Smith is a benefactor of mankind.—Welford Beaton, Editor, Hollywood Spectator

You're a Showman.

SHOWMANSHIP

You can't have perfect entertainment without variety. And you can't have variety without good short subjects.

Showmanship is nowhere more evident than in the proper use of the featurettes.

Educational

. . SHOW YOUR in SHORTS!!

There's real SHOWMANSHIP IN SHORTS in Educational Pictures... real amusement . . . real variety . . . real exploitation value in their big star names.

They're the cocktails with a kick but no hangover.

OLSEN & JOHNSON

"COUNTRY GENTLEMEN"

Daily Variety . . .
An excellent transformation of typical Olsen and Johnson stage comedy to the screen. Olsen and Johnson definitely good screen material.

Reporter . . .
It is the first picture work this comedy pair has ever done and will probably lead them into a fine film future as the industry could well use another reliable laugh team.

COLOR PROCESSES

The entries in the list not marked (b), (c), or (d) are names of processes, concerns, individuals, etc., in the color film industry identified with the actual or proposed production of ready-to-project (subtractive) color motion picture positives which can be screened without changing everyday projection conditions, and as such do not fall into the three following groups of processes (all of which are additive and, as a rule, consume upwards of two and a half times the normal amount of current in projection):

(b) Processes using lenticulated film, analogous to the late Kodacolor. While these films can also be projected minus all coloring, as black and white films, they nevertheless retain their inseparable linear screen structure, similar in appearance to television images.

(c) Additive (superimposed projection) systems requiring unusual projector mechanisms and/or attachments, together with their special color value positives, which type of film cannot readily be projected in black and white. The colors, as also in Kodacolor, et al., appear only upon screening and not directly in the positives which may be of abnormal dimensions in either width or length, or both, and are often of increased frame frequency in taking and projection.

(d) Screen-plate processes operating on the juxtaposed additive color mixture principal which requires that the primary color elements in the form of a microscopic mosaic pattern be carried directly in the virgin raw stock, and, per se, in the finished films, both direct positives and printed positives.

Willard Robertson and Wm. Nye in the Columbia Production, "The Man Who Lived Twice."

No Screen Executive complete without one!

Again and again you see it on the screen. Scene: The office of a business executive. Man at desk flips a key, talks to associate. It's the Dictograph Inter-Communicating Telephone System at work, put into the set by still another director with a keen sense of the fitness of things. For the movies must echo life—and Dictograph Telephone Systems are closely interwoven with the business life of the nation. For these reasons:

- Flip-Finger Action: No fiddling with dials—a flip of the finger and your connection is completed.

- Split-Second Contact: Heavy traffic at the switchboard can't slow you up—you contact the voice you want when you want it.

- Complete Privacy: Speaking of switch-boards, a Dictograph Telephone System "short-circuits" your chairman of the board, the operator. It's a completely effective cure for Office-Rumoritis.

- If Your Staff is More than You: A Dictograph Telephone System is just as necessary, just as practical in a two-room office as a honeycombed corporation. You'll realize the truth of this when you—

- Get the Facts! They're contained in Booklet 22 which bristles with practical reasons-why. Write for it today!
